CALDWELL COUNTY FACTS & STATISTICS

EARLY HISTORY

The Yadkin River arises in Blowing Rock on the northern edge of Caldwell County. This major Piedmont North Carolina River served as a pathway to western expansion during the colonial period. Its fertile valley attracted influential planters, including General William Lenoir, a Revolutionary hero for whom the county seat of Lenoir is named.

Modern Caldwell County has its roots in the fusion of the cultures of German settlers moving westward from the Piedmont, and the Scotch-Irish Appalachian people who inhabited the county's mountainous northern half. The abundant hardwood resources of Appalachian forest were the catalysts that combined the business and organizational skills of the Germans with the craftsmanship and strong work ethic of the mountaineers. A thriving furniture manufacturing industry emerged and has been the backbone of the Caldwell County economy ever since.

A second major thread in the county's economy has been supplied by the textile industry. In the late 1800s, "king cotton" still ruled southern agriculture. Caldwell County entrepreneurs were quick to recognize the potential, and a number of mills sprang up along the railroad corridor. Shuford Mills is still a major textile manufacturer. Huffman Finishing Company, located near Granite Falls, currently operates a state-of-the-art sock-weaving plant, one of the most efficient in the country.

GOVERNMENT

Caldwell County is served by a county-wide government, which operates from the county seat in Lenoir. It is administered by a county manager who reports to a five-member commission elected at large. The county is further governed by eight incorporated towns and cities, each of which have an elected mayor and council. Ranked by population, the incorporated communities are Lenoir, Sawmills, Gamewell, Granite Falls, Hudson, Cahah's Mountain, Rhodhiss and the Village of Cedar Rock.

Encompassing thirteen fire departments, three emergency response medical service bases and three rescue squads, the county's emergency response network meets the needs of the residents. In addition, three municipalities—Lenoir, Granite Falls, and Hudson—employ a full-time police force. The Caldwell County Sheriff's Department provides law enforcement services for the rest of the county. The North Carolina Highway Patrol Station is off US 321 in Hudson.

LOCATION & TOPOGRAPHY

Caldwell County is framed on the south by the Catawba River and Interstate 40 which parallels the river's course through the region. The southern part of the county consists of rolling countryside dissected by numerous streams. To the north is the Blue Ridge Parkway which passes through a corner of the county on Grandfather Mountain. US Highway 321 threads its way from the river to the mountains, intersecting the Parkway a few miles north of the county line. The northern portions of the county rise to 5,964 feet above sea level at Calloway Peak. The Pisgah National Forest occupies a large segment of the region, combining with contiguous forests further west.

The furniture industry makes up the primary manufacturing base. Originally founded by German craftsmen immigrants whose legacy is evident in the quality of workmanship today, Caldwell County products are shipped all over the world. Along US 321 is the renowned "20 Miles of Furniture" where shoppers from everywhere flock to take advantage of home furnishing bargains at outlet stores.

Caldwell County's business and industrial base is becoming more diversified, with inroads into a wide range of technically sophisticated products such as plastic, automotive, and medical supplies. The growth the county has experienced during the last few years has spread over the municipalities in a combination of traditional and diversified industries.

Three highways, Interstate 40, US 64 and US Highway 321, provide vital transportation links for Caldwell County's growing manufacturing, commercial and tourism base. US Highway 321, a four-lane thoroughfare, runs from Blowing Rock to the City of Hickory, where it intersects with Interstate 85. It provides a quick route to Charlotte making the commute time from Lenoir to Charlotte Douglas International Airport only 75 minutes. Other major highways located in Caldwell County include NC Highway 18, NC Scenic Highway 268, NC Highway 90 as well as the scenic Blue Ridge Parkway

Caldwell County's consolidated public school system boasts 17 elementary, four middle and three high schools. Together they serve almost 12,000 students. In comparison with the state's approximately 135 school districts, Caldwell County consistently delivers a top performance in virtually every major category.

For nearly 40 years, Caldwell Community College and Technical Institute has served as an area leader in expanding educational and cultural opportunities within Caldwell and Watauga counties. The school offers nearly 100 curriculum programs, hundreds of corporate and continuing education certifications and special interest courses, and GED/Basic Skills training at more than 50 sites throughout its two-county service area. Record enrollment over the past three years has boasted over 3,700 curriculum students though CCC&TI serves more than 14,000 students annually in all areas of the college.

From the Career Center to the future Appalachian State University Center, CCC&TI connects high school students straight through to bachelor degree programs on one campus, distinguishing the college as a state and national model. The Career Center's specialized workforce training earned it the Governor's Entrepreneurial Award for its success in innovation in educational partnerships. The ASU Center to be named for Faye A. Broyhill is set to open in spring 2006. While the center will focus primarily on teacher training, additional program options are being explored.

Home of the Cobras, CCC&TI offers NJCAA men's basketball, women's volleyball and cheerleading. The college's basketball team has enjoyed national recognition, finishing the 2002 season sixth in the nation in NJCAA Division III play atop recent regional championships. Intramurals, student government activities and over 30 clubs and organizations allow students further opportunities to become involved. In addition, the college's J.E. Broyhill Civic Center features quality entertainment throughout the year, including CCC&TI's own Performing Artist Series. CCC&TI's Caldwell Campus is in Hudson, about 15 minutes north of Hickory. Overlooking Grandfather Mountain, the college's Watauga Campus is off Highway 105 in Boone.

Cultural activities provide residents with additional leisure outlets. Street fairs and festivals are held annually in the communities of Hudson, Lenoir, and Granite Falls. The events feature handmade crafts such as quilts, toys, pottery, and stained glass. Another popular celebration is Harambee, organized by the City of Lenoir and the Freedman Community. Held in August, thousands of people attend this festival of African American arts. The Hmong Celebration, a yearly event held at the Caldwell County Fairgrounds, attract hundreds of visitors to our area.

Caldwell County hosts an annual five-state sculpture competition, the largest gathering of professional sculptors in the South. The Caldwell Arts Council is known as one of the best in the state. The Caldwell Arts Council operates three galleries. The Main Gallery is in the Caldwell Arts Council building. Exhibits in this gallery change monthly. The Art-in-Healing Gallery is at Caldwell Memorial Hospital. Exhibits in this gallery run for two to three months at a time and are open to the public 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. The Art-in-Community Gallery is at the Caldwell County Chamber of Commerce. Exhibits in this gallery run for two months at a time. Assisted by the Arts Council and by local business and industry, Foothills Performing Arts, located on the campus of Caldwell Community College and Technical Institute in Hudson, produces fine theatrical productions.

The J.E. Broyhill Civic Center brings musicals, plays, and cultural performances year round to Caldwell County. Season tickets are available or individual tickets may be purchased for any performances at the Civic Center. Some performances are given at no cost. The J.E. Broyhill Civic Center Auditorium Seats over 1,000 audience members.

The Caldwell County Library rounds out the list of the county's cultural amenities. A full range of materials and services are available. Services include regular programs for children and a TeleStory phone number at branches in Granite Falls and Hudson and a 50,000 square foot headquarters in Lenoir. For a listing of events, look at the calendar of events at www.caldwellcochamber.org.

R E C R E A T I O N

Caldwell County is a recreation paradise. Lenoir boasts two recreation centers and Granite Falls is home to a third. In addition, the Hudson Uptown Building offers a variety of recreation activities to include karate, gymnastics and aerobics. Lenoir's Aquatic and Fitness Center is a modern facility with a 50-meter outdoor pool and 25-meter indoor pool. Five city parks, numerous civic club parks, and three municipal pools, host team sports in baseball, softball, soccer, football and swimming.

The T.H. Broyhill Walking Park in Lenoir is a 1/3 mile, paved loop circling a beautifully landscaped lake. It is a very popular gathering place throughout the year. For the golfer, Caldwell County has 5 beautiful courses – Country Acres, Cedar Rock, Granada Farms, Lenoir and Orchard Hills. The national Lefty/Righty Tournament is held each year bringing golfers from all across the United States to Cedar Rock County Club. Driving ranges are also available.

Caldwell County is very fortunate to have a higher-than-average percentage of our acreage in public land. Most of this land is in Pisgah National Forest that covers nearly 49,000 acres in Caldwell County. One of the true jewels of the forest and the county is Wilson Creek Gorge formed by Wilson Creek. This area was added to the National Wild and Scenic River system in 2000. Wilson Creek is used for swimming, picnicking, tubing, horseback riding and kayaking, as well as camping and hiking. The Wilson Creek area is known for vast forests of colorful foliage.

The Wilson Creek Visitors Center officially opened October 14, 2002 providing a place for information, meeting spaces, picnic areas, or just a place to sit on the front porch and enjoy the day. Each month, a record number of visitors drop by the center. Nearby, the Brown Mountain Off-Highway Vehicle Area offers 34 miles of rugged, mountainous trails open to trail bikes with some sections open to ATVs, Jeeps and other four-wheel drive vehicles. This is the only area in a national park dedicated to trail bikes.

If you like to fish: Trout fishing in streams in the Wilson Creek Gorge is some of the best in the world. Striper and crappie are caught in Lake Hickory, Lake Rhodhiss and Gunpowder Creek. Perch, smallmouth bass and catfish in numerous rivers and streams challenge your fishing skills.

If you prefer hunting, Caldwell County is a haven for outdoorsmen. Wild game like whitetail deer, black bear, turkey, raccoon, rabbit, duck and other small game are hunted in the area. The NC Wildlife Commission has acquired some 5,000 acres of land in the Buffalo Cove area that can be used for hunting and fishing.

If you are into fast cars, the Tri-County Speedway, a NASCAR-affiliated track, will host events each season. For the equestrian – the Patterson School Equestrian Center offers horseback riding and horse rodeos throughout the summer. For the brave at heart who likes excitement, the Dudley Shoals Community offers the Tough Enough Rodeo.
